

Abstract

A Housing Assembly

A housing assembly for an electronic apparatus and in particular a mobile telephone is disclosed. The assembly includes two housing portions (21,23) for connection to each other and a release member (34) positionable between said portions (21,23), the release member (34) having a cam surface (38) thereon such that rotation of the release member (34) urges said housing portions (21,23) apart.
